ARKANSAS MAKES BIG STRIDES IN 4TH LOAN DRIVE

KENTUCKY COMING STRONG, AND LYON COUNTY CELEBRATES WITH FULL QUOTA.

ILLINOIS MAKES GOOD START

Two Counties in Mississippi Go Over Top and State Has Third of Subscriptions.

St. Louis, Oct. 1.—Volunteer days for the Fourth Liberty Loan put the Eighth Federal Reserve District well on the way toward the $25,000,000 goal assigned this district.

The start is considered good, the track fast and the drivers are whipping up for a great race for the highest honors that can come to non-combatants in this war—oversubscription for Liberty Bonds.

Little Rock, Ark., the largest city in the state, having a population of about 75,000, is one of the metropolitan cities going after first honors. Little Rock is located in Pulaski County. The quota for the county is $4,250,000. In the two volunteer days the citizens of Little Rock voluntarily subscribed $3,250,000 in Fourth Liberty Bonds.

State Chairman Hemingway feels confident that Pulaski County will complete its quota before the end of the week. Advances indicate that volunteer days in the entire state have been wonderfully successful.

Here are a few representative telegrams:

"Monroe County reports over the top."

"Voluntary subscriptions today put Lafayette County way over top. Could have done it week ago just as easy."

"Greene County quota raised; we are expecting larger amount."

"Paxton County quota oversubscribed; have not started yet."

"Saline County has exceeded quota."

"Cross County 102 per cent volunteer subscription and going strong."

"St. Francis County over the top; volunteer subscribers took our quota by 2 o'clock and still subscribing."

Kentucky Coming Strong.

Monday was Lyon Day in the Kentucky division. The following telegram was received at headquarters of the Liberty Loan Organization:

"Lyon County today, ending Sept. 29, went over the top with $65,000 subscriptions." Lyon County's quota was $35,000.

Fulton County reports $220,000 subscriptions, being more than two-thirds of its quota of $347,000. Henderson County's first volunteer day's sales consisted of 1,465 pledges to the amount of $340,000. Volunteer day in Livingston County was celebrated with subscriptions of $35,000 out of its $109,000 goal. Bond sales in Muhlenberg County on volunteer day reached a total of $214,700 toward the total of $538,000 assigned to this county.

High honors go to Union County for volunteer day, the sales coming within a fraction of reaching the total quota. The volunteer subscriptions were $303,300, while the quota is $334,000. Kentucky is coming strong.

Mississippi Is Hustling.

Returns Monday from 18 out of 39 counties in Mississippi show that 30 per cent of the entire state quota had been subscribed, with more than half the state yet to be heard from.

Two of the counties, West Tallahatchie and Humphreys, had completed their quota Monday morning. Humphreys is a new county, established since the Third Liberty Loan, and signals its entry by winning honors on the first day of the Fourth Liberty Loan drive.

W. P. Kretschmar, state chairman of Mississippi, who is here at headquarters, believes his state will go over the top in big time.

Illinois Returns.

Many telegrams have been received with encouraging news. Here are a few specimens:

"Bond County over the top. Fully subscribed quota of $402,000."

"Edwards County oversubscribed quota by $10,000 today."

"Lawrence County subscribed $1,010,000, exceeding quota."

"Adams County first day, volunteer subscriptions $1,850,000."

Tabulations of Tennessee subscriptions had not been made when this was written, but R. L. Jordan, state chairman, here at headquarters, said the reports would show good returns from the volunteers of Saturday. Listing the subscriptions was begun Monday and showed a voluntary purchase of $100,000 by the William R. Moore Dry Goods Co. and $50,000 by the Bry Block Co., both of Memphis. Mr. Jordan expects Shelby County to go over the top this week.

Barry and Osage counties are the only two counties in that part of Missouri in the Eighth Federal Reserve District that completed their quotas during the volunteer days.

Scarcely a dozen Missouri counties had reported to State Chairman Hughes at the St. Louis headquarters by noon Monday. Mr. Hughes has no fears for the state, however, and is confident that Missouri will be one of the first in the district to "go over the top."

Railroad Subscriptions

Definite instructions have been issued by the director general of railroads to the regional directors in regard to the method of soliciting the employees of railroads during the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign, and the method of recording and crediting the subscriptions of these employees.

The plan provides that there shall be separate Liberty Loan railroad committees, which shall have full charge of the solicitation of the subscriptions of railroad employees throughout the Eighth Federal Reserve district.

These railroad Liberty Loan committees are to co-operate with the local Liberty Loan committees, but are to act separately from them.

The subscriptions of employees of railroads are to be made through the railroads, though if the individual subscriber so desires he may subscribe through his local bank.

The railroads are to classify the subscriptions of their employees according to the communities in which they reside.

When the railroads place their total subscriptions with their banks, they are to furnish a list of the number of subscriptions and amounts of same received from each community, and are to advise the banks with whom they place the subscriptions that the communities will be given credit for the respective amounts reported.

The railroads will then file with the Federal Reserve Bank a similar report, so that the Federal Reserve Bank will then have the information by which they can credit the various communities with the subscriptions received from railroad employees living in these communities. Complete instructions will be sent to the railroads in regard to this method of accounting for subscriptions of communities.

At the end of the campaign, and as soon as we receive our report from the Federal Reserve Bank, we will report to you the amount of subscriptions received from railroad employees which have been credited to your county.

Respectfully,

V. L. PRICE,
General Director of Sales.
F. P. SIZER,
Chairman Barry County.
